WHY LETC ?

To help departments get the quality firearms training they need, LETC combines world-class instructors and a comprehensive curriculum into a single training event. You get advanced instructor training for several different subjects, all in the same week and all at one low price. It would be impossible for any department on its own to bring together such a wide variety of superior trainers and topics, which is why LETC has become such an important opportunity. As many have learned, you better come ready to shoot because LETC keeps you working on the range all day, every day. Don't let the low cost fool you. LETC provides the most and best training you will find anywhere at any price!

EARLY REGISTRATION PRICE OF $450 GOES UP TO $495 AFTER JULY 31, 2011.

Schedule

Monday the 12th is a travel day with check-in and opening ceremonies on Monday evening. Classes will be held Tuesday through Friday from 9:00 am to about 5:00 pm.

-----2011 Courses-----

High Performance Handgun

Bank Miller - Action Target Academy

For better or for worse, the handgun remains the primary firearm for law enforcement work. This intensive program will help you develop techniques and tactics that are tactically efficient and effective for the handgun under stressful situations. Based on economy of motion, the unique techniques and tactics presented will elevate your operational efficiency far beyond that of basic skill development. You will be able to respond to hazardous situations rapidly and safely with determination and confidence. This will very likely be the most intense and action-packed firearms training class you will ever take.

- Handgun safety and handling
- Sighted vs. unsighted shooting
- Alternate shooting positions and ground fighting
- Multiple threats / multiple shots
- Shooting while moving
- Engaging moving threats
- Dominant and support hand drawing, firing, reloading, and stoppage clearing

Instructor Bio: Bank has 30 years of federal, local, and military law enforcement experience with 12 years as the chief firearms instructor for the DEA, the FBI Academy, the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center, and the National Narcotics Training Institute. He spent 13 years as the Director of Training for the Sigarms Academy, and is currently the Senior Firearms Instructor for the Action Target Academy.

Advanced Practical Handgun

Todd Haller- Safariland Shooting School

Based on the concept of "get them out of their comfort zone", this course will provide you with powerful new training tools that can be used on even the most primitive ranges. Learn how to set up and conduct challenging tactical scenarios that expose critical weaknesses in equipment and technique. This course will demonstrate how the many challenges of modern firearms training can be met, even by departments with extremely tight budgets. You will experience first hand how simple portable targets can be used by any department on any range to elevate practical firearms training to dramatic new levels.

Instructor Bio: Todd Haller is an officer with the Snowmass Village PD with 14 years on the job. He has eight years of experience as a POST certified firearms instructor, a USPSA/IDPA competitor, and is a senior instructor with the Safariland Shooting School

Patrol Rifle/Carbine

Kyle Schmidt - Safariland Shooting School

This course will stress the 'real world' applications, techniques and limitations of the AR platform rifle in today's LE world. This course will cover often overlooked basics such as proper preparation of your patrol rifle, as well as real world operation of the rifle's mechanism. This course will also enlighten you as to the possibilities of this platform, while considering the limitations and the mindset that 'a rifle cures all'. This course will stress real time skill sets that you can transfer to your department.

- Coaching techniques
- URange operations and safety concerns

- understanding ammunition and its application
- Teaching alternate shooting positions
- Development of tactical and precision shooting
- Outline and lesson plan development
- One handed / disabled techniques
- Selection and use of lights and sighting systems

Instructor Bio: Kyle Schmidt is an officer with the Tempe, AZ Police department with seven years of SWAT experience. He is a certified patrol rifle instructor and was instrumental in developing Tempe Police Department's extensive PR course and policy. Kyle is a full time agency firearms training officer, Colt certified AR-15 armorer, and a USPSA Master class shooter and 3-gun competitor.

Ultimate Shotgun

Brian Hoffner - Safariland Shooting School / Hoffner's Training Division

This Course introduces you to the high speed world of Safariland Shooting School's Tactical Shotgun Program. Painlessly increase your level of speed to a blistering level with the skills necessary to win the deadly fight and go home at the end of the day. Drills include: Operational positions and indexes, Maximum speed presentation, Sights and trigger scale, Multiple threats, Select slug procedures, High speed reloads, Transition, & Active scanning through the Active Fight Cycle. You will be surprised at HOW fast you hit and win! Shooters will compete for Top gun through multiple events.

Instructor Bio: Brian Hoffner, a 29 year Houston Texas Master Police Officer, Senior Firearms Instructor, and Director of Hoffners Training Academy, is known and respected as a leader in his field. Brian's style of motivating his students while progressively teaching hands, knife, pistol, shotgun, rifle, & tactics make him a trusted favorite throughout the country. Brian is known for his innovation and high level of intensity while training. He brings out the best in his students and ensures a positive learning experience for all.

Rapid Deployment Patrol Rifle Operator

John Krupa - Team Spartan

This intense firearms training course focuses on instructor development techniques for tactical speed shooting, aggressive gun-handling skills and dynamic action during tactical deployment with the rifle. Students will develop reflexive gun-handling skills with the rifle that will enable them to quickly and efficiently engage threats while performing multiple complex tasks. Pre-requisite: This is an advanced rifle skills building course. Students must be a certified rifle instructor or certified rifle operator to attend this course.

Instructor Bio: John is a police officer with the Orland Hills Police Dept. and has over 20 years of experience in Law Enforcement. He has previously served as a beat officer, rapid response officer, FTO and firearms instructor with Chicago PD. He is a certified Master Firearms Instructor from PTI and graduate firearms instructor from the Secret Service Academy, FBI, DEA and FLETC. John has attended the last 9 LETC's and has presented courses as a guest instructor at ASLET, GTOA, ILEETA, ISOA, MTOA, NTOA and TTPOA conferences.

Emergency Medical Response for Firearms Instructors

Brian Bardsley, Jr. - Team Spartan

This course focuses on providing firearms instructors with the skills and knowledge to develop emergency medical action plans and a practical introduction to basic management of life threatening trauma injuries. Lectures focus on gunshot wound care, pre-incident planning, mindset, communication and equipment & transportation considerations. Principles of anatomy & physiology will be covered in addition to assessment and treatment modalities. Skill stations will provide hands-on experience with medical equipment.

Student Requirements: Notebook and pen. Attendees will receive a detailed manual with course materials as well as a CD with class power point presentation.

Instructor Bio: Brian is a police officer with the Chicago Police Department and has over 10 years of experience in law enforcement. He is a certified paramedic, EMT and TEMS operator. He has extensive experience as a paramedic, and brings a wealth of knowledge forth as a veteran combat medic in the U.S Army treating combat casualties in Iraq. He has made over a dozen guest speaker presentations on Combat Casualty Care at various hospitals and rehabilitation centers as well as ILEETA, ISOA and previous LETC's.

Shoot, Move, Communicate

Dennis Tueller - Glock Training Division

Tactical communication, controlled movement, use of cover, and accurate shooting - These are skills that must be effectively applied by armed personnel to resolve and survive close-range armed confrontations. Students will participate in range activities that will help them learn and apply techniques and tactics for integrating safe gun handling, marksmanship, mobility, and verbalization. Along with movement-oriented shooting exercises involving multiple stationary and moving targets, there is also a strong emphasis on the proper mind-set for combat survival.

Instructor Bio: As a retired 25-year veteran of the Salt Lake City PD, Dennis has trained thousands of men and women from throughout the world including law enforcement officers, police recruits, firearms instructors, federal agents, S.W.A.T. teams, military personnel, and corporate security specialists. Perhaps Dennis is best known for researching and developing ground breaking training protocol, as exemplified in his published seminal article, "How Close is Too Close." In that text, Dennis identified critical concepts ("proximics"), which influenced a revolution in tactical training doctrine (the "Tueller Principle").

"Reactive Shooting" on Reactive Steel for Speed and Accuracy

Bill Rogers-BILL-ROGERS SHOOTING SCHOOL

The program replicates the minimal amount of time a shooter will have to successfully neutralize an adversary. The shooter must react to the target's exposure, and successfully shoot it down in the time the target is available. Like in a real life battle. BILL RODGERS training reinforces the critical skill of "following through". That is why special military and police units are sent to Train with Bill Rogers from all over the world!

Instructor Bio:

BILL Rogers has been in the shooting instruction business for 25 years. The chief instructor, Bill Rogers, is a former FBI Agent, police instructor, successful inventor, and is well known in the shooting industry. Rogers has been a world ranked IPSC shooter, a state trap champion, and has over 40 years of shooting competition experience. Rogers has invented many of the holsters and equipment used by police and military world wide.

Success with Remedial Shooters Sig Sauer Academy Instructor Staff

This course will show instructors how to maximize their students' natural attributes through specialized teaching methodology that accelerates the learning process in achieving success.

The foundation of this program are techniques that are simple, make sense, and easily reproducible that show immediate results.

Nothing is really new, technically speaking, but a great deal is new in the presentation, demonstration and expected results of the course material.

The application of Objective Based Training will allow firearms instructors to reduce training time, decrease rounds expended and improve remedial students performance immediately.

The following are just some of the topics that will be presented

- The 2 things that are necessary to achieve safety and success simultaneously
- Dealing with psychological road blocks
- Analogical teaching
- Working with imperfect vision
- Visual cues
- Overcoming the self preservation response
- Cultivating visual cues to increase performance
- Tricks of the trade
- Speed development through economy of motion

Sig Sauer Academy Instructor Staff Members have a unique blend of Military, Law Enforcement and Sport Shooting backgrounds. Their versatility and expertise in multiple venues make them unique and among the very best in the industry in personal performance and in extracting performance from their students. Even though each instructor may add a personal touch to the course curriculum, the message is consistent and constant throughout. Sig Sauer Academy Instructors lead by example and set the example for others to follow
